

SECRETARY GENERAL

Anglican Communion Office

The Anglican Communion seeks a new Secretary General to assist the Communion to become even more faithful in engagement with God's mission of reconciliation.

The successful candidate will be a committed Christian, a person of deep faith and prayer, a visionary ambassador for Christ and his Church, a bridge-builder to effect healing amongst the Churches of the Anglican Communion, a creative and imaginative thinker, and an inspirational leader who will help to renew the witness and effectiveness of the Communion, its structures, and its programmes. Lay and clergy individuals from a member Church of the Anglican Communion are encouraged to apply.

The post requires a breadth of vision for what the Anglican Communion could be, together with a dedicated brief to carry forward its work, a track record in reconciliation ministry, extensive experience of working globally and cross-culturally, and proven management experience at a senior level.

Applications are invited from suitably qualified persons for this full-time position, based in London, England.

Further information is available on our website www.anglicancommunion.org/ministry/secretariat/vacancies/index.cfm

Applications should be sent by 21 January 2015 to applications@anglicancommunion.org.

All applications and enquiries will be treated in the strictest confidence.
